

REIN IN BIG GOVERNMENT WITH ARTICLE VI, NOT V

PRESENTED BY

For far too long, Big Government has operated outside of the limitations of the Constitution. As with any rule book, the limitations are only as good as those that are enforced.

The Founding Fathers knew this and brilliantly included provisions in Article VI that we can use to rein in an out-of-control federal government.

Watch as Robert Brown explains how this solution is much better than an Article V Convention, a Convention of States, and a Constitutional Convention.
